ABOUT TSL ADVENTURES

It's Bubble Fun during Wacky Water Week with TSL Adventures!

TSL Adventures started in spirit over ten years ago when its teachers Tom Styles, Shameka Brown-Johnson, and Lynette Smith forged a professional relationship and friendship while attending the College of Saint Rose together. After graduating and several years of teaching and directing academic and social programs, the partners decided to give their most recent and highly touted Summer Arts and Education Program, based out of Niskayuna, company status and venture out on their own. TSL Adventures is redefining the Summer Arts and Education Program by adding weeks, children, and ideas. Rooted in the ideals of cooperative learning and peer support, TSL builds character, hampers competition, and excites its participants with unique activities, games, crafts, and educational opportunities led by an experienced team that together holds eight degrees, eight teaching certifications and over thirty years of combined practice.

THE TEACHERS

Tom Styles has been teaching elementary children for twelve years. He is certified in Elementary Education and Mathematics. He was recognized in 2007 for a regional teaching excellence award. He has seven years experience leading social programs and founded the Summer Arts and Education Program, which later became TSL Adventures.

Shameka Brown-Johnson has been teaching elementary school for twelve years. She has certifications in Elementary Education, Reading and Educational Administration. She has previously co-directed the Summer Arts and Education Program, which became TSL Adventures.

Lynette Smith has been teaching elementary children for twelve years. She has certifications in Reading, Elementary Education and Educational Administration. She co-directed a summer program in 1996, which later planted a seed for the Summer Arts and Education Program.
